Road safety

4k resolution. GPS module. G-sensor.

Characteristics

When the built-in G-sensor detects impact, the camera starts recording and locks the file on your microSD card, preventing it from being overwritten by newer videos.

The GPS module adds information about your speed and location to every recording.

Thanks to the 7 glass 1.6 lens and Sony sensor, the images are sharper and more detailed, with bright and vivid colors.

In parking monitor mode, with the car's engine turned off, the camera starts recording when it detects movement or an impact.
